Action On Reservist Is Blasted

Family's Activities Threaten Student

DETROIT (AP)—A college student was faced Wednesday with the possibility of expulsion from the Air Force Reserve as a "security risk" in the light of activities of his father and sister. Attorney Charles C. Lockwood said the Air Force has brought action against First Lt. Milo J. Radulovich, 26, a University of Michigan GI Bill of Rights student.

Lockwood said that Radulovich, his client, has been charged with being a "bad security risk" because his sister had taken part in "picket line activities" and his father read a "radical" newspaper.

There was no elaboration on either point except that Lockwood said the paper was published in Pittsburgh.

The 10th Air Force at Selfridge Air Force Base said a "board proceeding" would be conducted Tuesday in relation to Lt. Radulovich. The Air Force Public Information Office gave no details.

Lockwood said that in the Air Force action "no reflection whatsoever is made or raised as to the character or loyalty" of the lieutenant.

Action 'Contrary'
At the same time the lawyer denounced the proceeding. He said it implied "not even guilt by association but guilt by relationship." He said it was "contrary to everything we have known in the law."

Lockwood said the action was based "solely on the grounds that his father and his sister have engaged in what the government considers to be subversive activity."

"If the government starts into proceedings like this, there is no telling where it might end," Lockwood said.

Lt. Radulovich, married and father of two daughters, studies physics at the University of Michigan. The Air Force identified him as an inactive reservist.

Good Thing Steering Wheel Was Fastened On

A stolen car owned by Mrs. Delmar Condon of 449 No. 56th, taken from 16th and K curb parking, was found four hours later abandoned and stripped of a backwoods road five and a half miles southeast of Ashland Wednesday evening.

The car was seen by an employee of an Ashland garage after it had been abandoned. It was stripped of the front wheels and tires, the spare tire and battery.

Identity of the auto thieves is as yet unknown.

George Learned His Politics Lesson Well

EVERETT, Mass. (AP)—George Keverian, 22, majored in government before his graduation from Harvard last June.

This week he successfully tried out what he learned about politics.

He came in first in a field of 23 candidates for six city council nominations.

His campaign strategy? He sent each voter a pamphlet, the cover of which was a photograph of the voter's own home.

Canker Worms Exonerated; Necrosis Killing Elm Trees

Phloem necrosis, not canker worms, has been the scourge of Lincoln's stately elm trees this year.

This disease affecting the "circulatory system of the elm" has been "our worst problem," according to Park Superintendent Jim Agar, who said the department now has a list of some 500 afflicted trees to be removed.

With an apparent cyclic tendency, phloem necrosis infestation has been reported to be slackening in the eastern part of the United States.

"This is heartening news to us," Agar added.

Negligible Damage
Canker worms did negligible damage this year, he said. City trees were sprayed in 1951 and 1952, the worst years, but no control was needed this year.

Agar explained that the University of Nebraska reported this spring from a canker worm census that infestation would be light.

A University entomologist said phloem necrosis damage this year had been heavy in south Lincoln, but perhaps no greater than the past two years.

Known carrier of the disease is the Elm leaf-hopper. Because of a mild winter the incidence of this insect has been greater. The disease, for which no cure or control is currently known, is fatal to elms.

Drought so far has not hurt the elm trees too much this year, Agar said, but added that prolonged dryness in the fall could be of serious consequence.

The canker-worm cycle is expected to be light again next year, but it was cautioned that climatic conditions and the population of natural parasites of the worm are determining factors.

Nebraska Naval Air Cadet Dies In 2-Plane Crash

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP)—An Aviation cadet was killed about 25 miles south of Corpus Christi Wednesday in the third collision of Navy planes in this area in two weeks.

The victim was Ralph D. Robier, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emory J. Robier, 205 W. 30th, South Sioux City, Neb. Cadet Robert E. Morgan, 20, Columbus, Tex., pilot of the other plane, bailed out and escaped with minor bruises. Both men, flying AD-1 Skyraiders, were taking advanced training at Cabanis Field here.

The planes collided as they were participating in a rocket run as part of the cadet's training. There were seven collisions of Navy planes in this area last year and there have been seven so far this year.

Tax Statements Out First Week Of Next Month
One of life's two inevitables, taxes, will soon be making its appearance in Lincoln mail boxes.

City real and personal property tax statements for the 1953-54 fiscal year will be mailed the first week in October. Ten thousand of the notices will be sent daily until all 35,000 of them have been dispensed.

The 35,000 figure covers real estate statements and represents an increase of about 1,800 over the total number of statements sent out last year. Personal property statements for the city will drop this year from about 45,000 last year to 35,000 because automobiles, assessed last year by the city, will be assessed this year by the county.

City taxes become due Oct. 1 and delinquent Dec. 1. Unpaid delinquent tax balances draw interest at the rate of 7 per cent per year.

Assistance Rolls Continue Decline

Old age assistance rolls continue to decline as pension programs reduce the number applying for supplemental assistance and deaths of early applicants increase, it was shown by the August report of the State Assistance Department.

Receiving state and federal aid were 18,962 persons as compared with 19,067 in July and 20,891 a year ago the same month. The amount of payments also declined to $1,053,708 as compared with the $1,134,947 paid in August 1952.

The average grant was $55.57 compared with $54.33 a year ago. It was explained that this is not a true picture of payments as grants are made on a need basis and often merely supplement other income.

The report showed 6,185 individuals receiving aid-to-dependent-children payments last month. The average per child was $35.56 and the total was $219,920. A year ago the average for 6,521 children was $35.91, and the total was $234,138.

There were 721 persons on the state's blind assistance rolls last month, averaging $66.47 for a total of $47,922.

In August, 1952, 746 persons received an average of $66.24, totaling $49,417.

10 Killed In Plant Blasts

27 Are Injured In Four Explosions

TONAWANDA, N. Y. (AP)—Ten men were killed and 27 persons were injured Wednesday as a series of four explosions ripped to bits a chemical plant building and rocked the northern suburbs of Buffalo.

Authorities feared the toll of dead might be as high as 12.

The blast destroyed the brick one-story building owned by the Lucidol division of the Novadela Corp. Wreckage was strewn for several hundred yards. Parts of bodies were thrown as far as 50 feet.

Dozens of homes were damaged by the blast and flying debris. The blast could be heard for four miles.

The company said the cause had not been determined. The Erie County District Attorney started an investigation.

A fire chief said damage would run into the millions.

All of the dead apparently were in the building at the time of the explosion. Only six had been identified positively.

Many of the injured were residents of a housing project across the street.

Police Chief Elmer C. Mang said he understood there were 12 men in the building when the first blast ripped it apart.

One fireman nodded, at a huge housing project across the street and remarked:

"If there are no more than a dozen dead, we're lucky."

Liquid Hydrogen
Authorities said they believed the explosions were in chemical storage tanks. But the precise cause of the blasts was not determined.

Dr. Francis Visser's Hooft, president, denied earlier reports that liquid hydrogen had exploded. He said "no hydrogen gas or liquid hydrogen was on the premises."

He said the firm had not yet determined what exploded, or how it happened. "Apparently in some unexplained manner a batch of material ignited and the explosion followed," he declared.

Families of the men employed in the plant waited at the gate for news.

The first two victims identified were Charles Hoy Jr., about 26, a chemical worker, and John Sick, a research chemist.

Windows Shattered
Some bodies were torn apart by the blasts. Two bodies were found 75 feet away from the two-story brick structure, in which a steamfitting crew had been working.

Lucidol's main building, midway between Tonawanda and Buffalo, had scarcely a whole piece of glass left in it.

The explosions were heard as far away as six miles. They followed each other at intervals over a period of 25 minutes, shattering windows in nearby buildings and showering debris over several blocks in every direction.

Flames leaped high in the air under a mushroom cloud of heavy, black smoke that witnesses said resembled photographs of atomic explosions.

Today's Chuckle
Maybe the meek will inherit the earth, but right now we can't see why they'd want it.

Manager's Return Breaks Up Attempted Safe-Cracking Job
A late working oil company manager forced a safe cracker to flight Wednesday evening at the Socoy Vacuum bulk plant and service station office at 1616 Holdrege.

And Lincoln police jailed a 22-year-old Lincoln man on an open charge in connection with the break-in and attempted burglary. He was found only a block and a half from the scene of the break-in.

The dial on a three ton cabinet type safe had been punched off and Lincoln Police said penetration of the safe was half-way completed when the burglar was frightened off. Another five-ton safe showed evidence of tampering. Both safes contained undetermined amounts of money, Police said.

Adams said he thought nothing was missing but added he would take an inventory in the supply room Thursday morning.

Star Staff Writer

PLATTSMOUTH, Neb. — A 45-year-old farmer and community leader Wednesday night was crowned King of the Plattsmouth Korn Carnival and his throne was shared by a blonde Colorado school teacher.

Making good use of the letter "K," the 22nd annual Kass Kounty King Korn Carnival opened with all the fanfare and ceremony with a small city can produce. The first day was climaxed with the official coronation of King Glenn Wetenkamp of Mynard, and Queen Miss Janis Schmidtman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Schmidtman of Plattsmouth.

King Wetenkamp, an active farmer, is a past-president of the Mynard Community Club, a school board officer and is president of the brotherhood of the Evangelical United Brethren Church in Mynard. Miss Schmidtman is a graduate of the University of Nebraska and is presently teaching school in Pueblo, Colo.

Official Court
The coronation took place on a platform in the center of the business section and at the end of a two-block-long white aisle. Before an official court of more than 200 persons representing Cass County towns, the 1952 king, F. L. Rea, placed the crown on the head of the new king. Wetenkamp then officially crowned the new queen.

Three Parades
The three-day event will include three parades scheduled Thursday and Friday. There will be a Farmers' parade Thursday at 1 p.m., and a rural school and children's parade Friday at 2 p.m. This will be followed at 7 p.m. Friday by a merchants and G. I. parade.

Bands from Plattsmouth, Syracuse, Nebraska City, Auburn, Ottumwa Air Force Base, and Sidney and Tabor in Iowa will take part in the various parades.

Some old-time fair entertainment will make a comeback this year. A greased pig catching contest will be held Thursday afternoon for children under 12, and there will be a greased pole climbing contest the following day.

Other events will include a 4-H calf and lamb auction, dance contests, two free horse shows and a 4-H tractor rodeo. The Kass County Club of the Plattsmouth vicinity in co-operation with local businessmen.

Communists Hand Over Jubilant GIs To Indian Troops

By SAM SUMMERLIN

PANMUNJOM, Korea, Thursday (AP)—The Reds today yielded control of 23 American prisoners of war they said had refused repatriation. The Americans sang the Communist "Internationale" as they were handed over to Indian custodial troops in the Korean neutral zone.

The Reds also gave up one Briton and 335 Korean prisoners of war they said did not insist on repatriation in last month's big prisoner of war exchange.

The Koreans were handed over first. The Americans and the British came last. There were five women among the Koreans. The transfer was completed shortly after 1 p.m. (10 p.m. Wednesday CST).

The Americans were singing the Communist anthem as they rolled into the demilitarized zone in Russian-built trucks.

They laughed and smiled as they climbed out of the lumbering vehicles.

All appeared healthy and were sunbanned.

They smoked Chinese cigarettes.

Some shook hands with North Korean Communists who helped them down from the trucks, and thanked them.

'Don't Forget Us'
One American told a Chinese: "Good luck, Comrade Lee. We will see you in Peiping, old man."

Another told a Red officer, "Thank you. See you later."

The Communist replied, "Don't forget us." The American said, "Never."

A Communist correspondent released the names of the 23 Americans and the Briton. Willard Burchette of the Paris L'Humanite, also gave Allied newsmen copies of a statement he said the Allied prisoners wrote, telling why they refused to return, and a statement he said was from the lone British prisoner on why he declined repatriation.

The turnover of Allied prisoners opened at 10:05 a.m. (7:05 p.m. Wednesday, CST) with a truckload of singing South Koreans.

Burchette said the Americans and the British wrote long statements on why they refused to return home while at Kaesong, the Red truce city north of Panmunjom.

Signed With 23 Names
The Red newsmen said this was all the prisoners wanted to say at this time.

The statement which Burchette claimed was written by the Americans was signed in pen with 23 names.

The statement said, "Our staying behind does not change the fact that we are Americans. We love our country and our people."

But, the statement said, "Unfortunately under present conditions in America, the voice of those who speak out for peace and freedom are rapidly being silenced. We do not intend to give the American government the chance of silencing our voices too."

Burchette said the highest ranking American in the group is a sergeant. He said there are three Negroes. The Britisher, he said, is a Marine.

The South Koreans who refused repatriation were brought to the camps in Russian-built trucks, nine at a time. They were singing and cheering, but quieted as they filed through the Indian processing line.

Burchette said the Americans "are quite convinced that America is embarked on a war policy and they don't want any part of that."

Burchette said the group "is a mixed one," with varying degrees of education.

The Red newsmen said the Americans "did not say where they wanted to go" if they are not repatriated.

The list of names given by Burchette was not passed by the Army censor. The censor said he had instructions from his Tokyo headquarters that no names would be passed unless the prisoner decides to return to the Allied side.

Beginning Saturday representatives of the Communists and the Allies will start "explanations" to the POWs as to their rights under terms of the armistice.

As the Allied POWs filed into the neutral zone, charges arose that the Communists are violating the truce with an ominous air buildup.

It was believed the U.N. Command was planning an official protest, charging the Reds brought jet fighters and other planes into North Korea after the armistice.

Little Sioux Flood Plan Given OK

OMAHA (P)—The Army engineers announced approval of a flood control plan for the Little Sioux River and its tributaries which would cost about $18 million altogether.

This includes an estimated federal cost of $15,444,000 and $2,555,000 from local co-operators. Brig. Gen. W. E. Potter, Missouri River division engineer, said a report of the Army Engineers recommends that an improvement project approved in 1947, be modified in the light of the present investigation and be undertaken.

The report said a "desirable degree of flood protection would be provided for 120,500 acres of productive farm lands as well as for several small towns chiefly in Harrison and Monona Counties in Iowa.

Local interests would be required to provide without cost to the government lands, easements and rights of way required. Estimated first cost to local co-operators would be about $2,555,000 and the annual cost of operation and maintenance would be $129,900, the engineers report said.

Chief Speech Writer For Ike Resigns

WASHINGTON (P)—Emmet J. Hughes, President Eisenhower's chief speech writer, resigned Wednesday to rejoin the editorial staff of Life Magazine.

Eisenhower, accepting the resignation "with the greatest reluctance," told Hughes in a letter: "I personally have found real inspiration in your insight and eloquence."

The 32-year-old Hughes gave "compelling reasons" as the cause of his leaving his $15,000-a-year White House post of administrative assistant to the President.

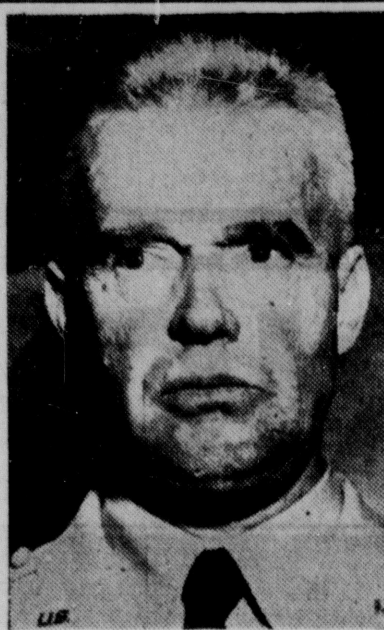

The White House denied a published report that a dispute between Hughes and Undersecretary of Defense Roger M. Kyes was behind Hughes' resignation.

Miss Saunders, 72, Dies; Was Resident Here Since 1928

Mrs. Mattie Elizabeth Saunders, 72, 2226 R, died Tuesday. She was the widow of George W. Saunders.

Mrs. Saunders had lived in Lincoln since 1928. Born at Savannah, Mo., she taught school there before coming to Lincoln. She was a member of Newman Methodist Church at Savannah.

Surviving are a son William B. Spatsman Jr. of Seattle, Wash.; two daughters, Mrs. Constance Winston and Mrs. Ruth Hill, both of Lincoln; eight grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren.

Karnes Sees Recession Possibility

William G. Karnes, president of Beatrice Foods Company, predicted that "certain signs" may indicate a business recession in the future but that "the food business is better than it was a year ago."

In Lincoln for the 55th anniversary of the firm and the sixth regional meeting of stockholders Tuesday, Karnes said he believed that any recession which may come in the future will be minor. "With our growing population and purchasing power, we are strong enough financially to overcome any minor adjustments," the Beatrice president said.

Karnes, who added that he considered "Congress reluctant to pass any form of national sales tax," said that if such a tax is passed, "it would be a terrible mistake to place a national sales tax on food products."

At the stockholders' dinner at the University of Nebraska Coliseum Tuesday evening, George Buer of 2424 Garfield, traffic manager and purchasing agent for Lincoln and branches of the firm, was honored for his 53 years of continuous full time service to the company, the longest employment record of any of the 11,000 active Beatrice employees.

More than 800 stockholders and guests attended the evening meeting at the coliseum. Honored at a luncheon at the Cornhusker Hotel were John T. McGreer and Earl Cline, both directors of the Beatrice firm.

McGreer was presented a 50-year pin denoting his 50 years of service to the company and Cline was honored for his completion of 10 years with the firm.

Karnes was also honored—Gov. Robert Crosby named him an admiral in the Nebraska Navy.

News Around The Globe

Allies Criticized

NEW YORK (P)—Sen McCarthy (R-Wis) Wednesday demanded that Great Britain stop shipping goods to Red China and criticized Allies "who lick the enemy's hand and furnish him with weapons of war."

By simply withholding aid to Britain the United States could set up an effective blockade against British shipping on the China Coast, the Senator declared.

No Fight Pledged

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (P)—Canada served notice Wednesday its troops will not fight to unify Korea by force. It favors a negotiated settlement of the Korean problem; U.N. supervision of elections to choose a government for unified Korea; withdrawal of all foreign troops, and an international guarantee for Korea's safety.

Chances Brighten

WASHINGTON (INS)—The nation's bankers were told Wednesday that cuts in federal spending have brightened chances for putting the government's financial house in order.

Speaking to the American Bankers Association at the final session of its 79th annual convention, Deputy Treasury Secretary W. Randolph Burgess declared this can be done without upsetting the U.S. economy.

Boy Found Dead

WICHITA, Kan. (P)—The body of a 14-year-old boy was found hanging from a crossbar on playground equipment at a school here Wednesday.

Officers said the boy, Edward Tucker, had left home after quarreling with his parents when they refused to let him watch a television program. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Tucker.

Mrs. Ringling Dies

SARASOTA, Fla. (P)—Mrs. Edith Conway Ringling, 84, chairman of the board of the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey circus, died Wednesday.

She was the widow of Charles Ringling, one of the five brothers who founded the circus. She owned about one-third interest in the big top.

Lincoln Kiwanis Club To Join In Kids Day

Members of the Lincoln Kiwanis Club will participate in National Kids Day Saturday by selling peanuts in the downtown area.

Sales will be made on O, N and P Streets during the hours of 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. Profits will be used to help underprivileged children.

National Kids Day is sponsored by Kiwanis Clubs throughout the United States, Canada, Alaska and Hawaii in co-operation with the National Kids Day Foundation Inc.

Robeson Honored

NEW YORK (P)—Singer Paul Robeson, who got a Stalin Peace prize but was unable to get a passport to Moscow to receive it, was given the prize in ceremonies here Wednesday night.

The presentation was made at the Hotel Theresa in Harlem by Howard Fast, author. He presented to Robeson a bound citation and a gold medal. A $25,000 prize goes with the award.

H-Bombs Cheaper

BALTIMORE (P)—The Baltimore Sun speculated Wednesday night that the hydrogen bomb is becoming easier and cheaper to make than the much less powerful atom bomb and that eventually small nations can make their own H-bombs at relatively little expense.

The conclusions were drawn in a front-page dispatch by Mark Watson, Sun papers military correspondent, writing from Washington. He said they were "conjectures toward which an observer is practically driven by such non-secret facts as are stated readily enough by atomic energy authorities in answer to questions."

Divorce Obtained

LAS VEGAS (P)—Crooner Dick Haymes got a divorce in seven minutes Wednesday from Nora Eddington Flynn Haymes, then two hours later obtained a license to wed Rita Hayworth.

They plan to marry Thursday.

Prof. Bullock Services Set For Friday

Services for Theodore T. Bullock, 64, 2420 R, retired professor of economics and business law at the University of Nebraska, will be at 3 p.m. Friday at Wadsworth's, Dr. Raymond A. McConnell officiating.

Prof. Bullock, who died Tuesday night, was the son of the Rev. M. A. Bullock, pastor of Vine Congregational Church for 25 years.

Born in Iowa City, Ia., Prof. Bullock came to Lincoln with his parents when he was 10. A 1911 graduate of the University of Nebraska, he received his Master's Degree from the university in 1914.

Appointed to the College of Business Administration faculty in 1913, he was a professor at the university until he retired Feb. 1, 1953.

Prof. Bullock, in addition to teaching classes, had been in charge of the student placement office of the Business Administration College.

His wife is the former Ruth Brownell, sister of U.S. Attorney Herbert Brownell.

Surviving are his wife; two daughters, Mrs. William McConnell of Ann Arbor, Mich., and Mrs. Victor Paul Hanneman of Los Angeles, and five grandchildren.

Child Care Film Will Be Shown At First Baptist

Christian Education Week in Lincoln will feature the showing of a new film, "For Every Child," sponsored by the Division of Christian Education of the Lincoln Council of Churches.

The film will be shown at 7:30 p.m. Monday at First Baptist Church, 14th and K, where the Lincoln Council's School of Religion also will begin that evening.

There is no admission charge for the film, a short dramatic feature which "will help parents and teachers understand the growing child and his problems," according to the Rev. M. A. Wittler, chairman of the Christian Education Division.

Lincoln is one of 100 cities in the United States and Canada selected for the world premiere showing of the movie.

Crosby, Cherry County Ranchers, Discuss Irrigation

A delegation of Cherry County ranchers headed by Sen. D. J. Cole, former Gov. S. R. McKelvie, Wilbur Drybread and Ralph Baker met with Gov. Robert Crosby.

Lynn E. Heth explained to the governor their views on the proposed irrigation district as submitted for state approval by the Bureau of Reclamation. A canal would carry the water to the Ainsworth area.

The ranchers in general oppose the plan fearing that it would result in draining sandhills lakes and that the canals would be a hazard to cattle on the range.

'U.N. Still Best Hope'

... President Says

WASHINGTON (P)—President Eisenhower said Wednesday the United Nations has become a "sheer necessity" in the face of terrible new weapons of mass destruction.

Speaking in the White House Rose Garden, the President told members of the U. S. Committee for United Nations Day:

"With all its defects, and with all the failures that we can chalk up against it, it (the U.N.) still represents man's best organized hope to substitute the conference table for the battlefield."

Then, in an obvious reference to the hydrogen bomb and other ultra-modern weapons, Eisenhower declared:

"In these days, when every new invention of the scientists seems to make it more nearly possible for man to insure his own elimination from this globe, I think the United Nations has become sheer necessity."

Escapee Is Given Two More Years

James Timm, 22, formerly of Norfolk, who pleaded guilty Tuesday in Lancaster District Court to a charge of escape from the State Reformatory on Sept. 15, was sentenced to two additional years in the State Penitentiary.

Authorities said Timm was picked up at Stanton, Neb., four days after he walked off a swine work detail at the Reformatory.

Living Costs Record High

WASHINGTON (P)—Living costs across the nation, continuing an advance that started last February, moved up in August to a record high, 13 per cent above the 1950 pre-Korea level, the government announced Wednesday.

The increase of three-tenths per cent, to 115 per cent of the average 1947-1949 base period, means an automatic three-cent an hour wage increase for 1,300,000 rail workers next month. Their wage rates are tied to the cost of living index with adjustments being made every three months.

The largest increase in beef and veal prices in any single month since June, 1942, was one of the factors contributing to the higher index announced Wednesday, which measured the change in the cost of living between July 15 and Aug. 15.

Farmers now are receiving 17 to 32 per cent less for their crops than a year ago, the institute said.

GUARDS AGAINST

INTERFERENCE

In the studio—under controlled conditions—cameras pick up perfect image. Diagram represents television wave pattern as it appears on engineer's oscilloscope.

But outside interference—a passing truck, a neighbor's vacuum cleaner—can distort TV waves. Such interference scrambles the wave pattern like this.

Scrambled TV waves ruin reception on ordinary TV sets. Picture becomes streaked and distorted. Crosley tackled wave distortion... developed the Picture-Sentry.

Crosley Picture-Sentry (an advanced electronic circuit) controls TV wave pattern; guards against scrambling. The image on your '54 Crosley stays clear, sharp... as in the studio.

Exclusive Picture-Sentry wipes out roll-over... streaks and flutter... automatically gives you true-to-life pictures.

Has your enjoyment of television been interrupted by pictures that roll, jump or tear—even though you just had your set serviced? Well, that won't happen on a new Crosley, thanks to the amazing Crosley Picture-Sentry that automatically wipes out the cause of these annoyances.

Before you put down one penny for a television set—go see the new Crosleys. Turn the dial on a Crosley, take a good long look at the picture. See how clear it is... how it almost breathes.

You won't see a better picture anywhere because only Crosley has the Picture-Sentry. And look at all these other Crosley features:

Crosley's built-in UHF reception gives you all 82 channels—other UHF-VHF combinations optional. Crosley prices include Federal excise tax and full-year warranty on picture tube as well as 90 days on chassis parts. Permanent pinpoint focus... no dial fussing. All rich wood cabinets, not metal, not plastic. Super picture power—ideal for fringe areas. Removable picture window so you can clean window and tube face yourself. Brightness and tone controls in front, in easy reach. Illuminated dial on Custom sets... no more squinting. When and if color comes, your '54 Crosley will receive in black and white all programs broadcast through the compatible color system being developed by the television industry.

Industrial Strike Cripples Italy

6 Million Workers Walk Out

ROME, Thursday (AP) — Six million Italian workers were called off their jobs today in the biggest nationwide industrial strike here since the Communists tried in vain to smash the Italian government in 1948.

The Communists hailed the 24-hour walkout as the start of their long threatened "winter offensive."

Communist and non-Communist unions joined the tie-up in support of their demands for higher pay and increased job security.

The Italian Confederation of Industry said it would cost $800 million a year to meet the union demands.

Factory wheels were ordered to stop in every industry. Newspapers ceased publication. Commuter trains, city and interurban buses and trams were halted. Taxis were ordered off the streets. Movies were closed.

The only exceptions were essential services including gas, electricity, water, telephone, national railways, and bread and milk deliveries.

The strike began at midnight Wednesday.

It was the first time in a general walkout that Italy's two free labor unions have joined forces with the powerful Communist-dominated General Confederation of Labor (CGIL). Previously they had shunned strikes ordered by the Red bosses of the CGIL.

To Talk Things Over

A chap by the name of Adlai Stevenson has a luncheon engagement a week from today to talk things over with another man who occupies the exalted post of President of the American people. They were rivals in one of the most exciting campaigns this country has experienced.

Mr. Stevenson reports to the President on his observations resulting from a world-wide tour which took him to those troubled spots in the Orient and elsewhere. It will be a forthright report which Mr. Stevenson gives the President and one which could be of exceedingly great value both to the President and to the American people. For Mr. Stevenson talked with heads of governments and with leaders in these troubled spots. What he tells the President will not be steeped in partisanship nor born of the disappointment of an unsuccessful campaign for the presidency.

It will be one outstanding American talking to another outstanding American in the full sense of responsibility for the welfare of the American people.

This is a fine example of the working of democratic processes for the rest of the world. It may happen in other countries although we have not been aware that rival leaders submerge their own interests in order to compare notes on steps designed to promote national welfare. Here we like to think, at least, that our politics, noisy and bitter at times, nevertheless lend themselves to the common good.

Friends And Neighbors

This is to enter a plea of guilty. Without the slightest sense of shame, we plead guilty to the charge of being a small-town boy. Never do we head homeward toward a very special community, taking leave of the crowded, roaring canyons which constitute America's great cities, without experiencing a warming feeling that Nebraska is a pretty good place and its people are a fine people.

Elsewhere on this page is a letter which the editor of this paper hopes people will read. It merits reading. It was written by a woman who so accurately describes the satisfactions and the compensations furnished by scores of Nebraska communities. While she speaks of advancing age, what she says applies to one and all. In part, she writes:

"There is no place like the little old home town where we know everybody and understand each other. We may criticize and find fault but deep down in our hearts there is sympathy and a willingness to help. We have our churches where we meet as one large family. We have a library, a nice place to while away the afternoons reading. And a lovely park that is cool and shady in the hottest weather. We know our business people. They are not just cogs in the wheel. They are our friends and neighbors. Even the children are friendly. They always greet us with a "Hi," and a smile. We are not so far from the country but what we can walk out and see the hills, valleys and streams. We live as near to peace as is possible in a world where nations are clawing at each other. Yes, we should be contented."

Ah, the hills and the valleys beyond! There they are in all their beauty, beckoning especially to the young who see them in their newness and who seem to think that opportunity itself is to be found in the next valley just beyond.

It is a special problem in Nebraska and in some of the neighboring farm states—this drift from the rural atmosphere of the small town to the bright, glittering great cities where opportunity seems to exist in such greater degree. Yet if the truth is to be told, there are many in these crowded cities, many who have left smaller or small towns for the city, who experience that nostalgia inspired by the golden years of their youth. One of the most widely read columns in American journalism for several years, followed religiously day after day by leaders in finance, industry and building, was a column appearing in a financial journal which 90 per cent of the time carried the reader back to the small town in America.

These small towns actually make a contribution to American life today which rarely rates attention in the pages of the press. They help to preserve that essential spirit of understanding, friendship and neighborliness.

What a dreary land this America of ours would be if its people lived only in the huge, noisy great cities or if not in the cities, separated by distances from each other.

Hidden Meaning

Back before Congress, as soon as it convened again, will go a modified form of the Bricker amendment which this time will have the support of Lyndon Johnson of Texas, Democratic leader, who predicts its "overwhelming" adoption.

The amendment affects the treaty-making powers of the President, and in its modified form it proposes (1) to make sure that no treaty will deprive Americans of their constitutional rights, and (2) to make sure that the President has all of the authority he needs to conduct our foreign affairs.

These seem like odd safeguards since the Supreme Court always has had the power and has frequently exercised it to protect Americans in their constitutional rights. Presidents have not been handicapped in negotiating treaties, and citizens have always enjoyed protection from presidential willfulness by the constitutional provision that effective treaties require consent of two-thirds the Senate. In the light of these facts, the proposed amendment must have other things in mind.

On The Mend

During the past 12 months, the United States, in a reversal of post-war form, sold $996,600,000 of gold to foreign nations, most of them in Europe. This contrasts with our purchase of gold the preceding year to the amount of $1,670,100,000.

Ordinarily when nations have to sell gold, they do so because their sales have not been big enough to balance their purchases. The past year's switch from selling to buying is an encouraging symptom of economic recovery abroad. And it also could explain the mounting demands upon Washington for increased tariffs.

TV Banking

A Washington, D. C., bank has found a place for television in finance. When a depositor wishes to know how much money he has, his ledger sheet appears on a TV screen and he can see how every dollar got there. Now all that is needed is a double feature with a second show on where it all goes.

Wilson Worried Over Civilian Defense Lag

WASHINGTON—Secretary of Defense Charlie Wilson was fidgety all last week because the Joint Chiefs of Staff passed their Sept. 15 deadline without submitting figures on the military budget for next year. The military chiefs were supposed to submit their budget estimates 10 days ago, but let the Sept. 15 deadline slip by without sending Wilson a single piece of paper or even a single figure.

There is, however, an excellent reason for the delay. It can be summarized in exactly six words, plus a corollary explanation.

The six words are: Russia's possession of the hydrogen bomb. The corollary explanation boils down to this: The Joint Chiefs of Staff can't make any estimates on military needs until they get a decision from the White House on the following all-important problems:

1. Will the U.S.A. erect adequate civil and military defense protection against the H-bomb?
2. If so, does this defense money come out of the military budget?
3. Does the President intend to stick to his budget-balancing program? Or will he sacrifice the budget for the sake of stronger defense?

THE AWESOME DECISION
These are civilian questions which the military chiefs can't answer. They aren't in their province. They are the problem of their own civilian boss, Secretary of Defense Wilson and the President himself. They also constitute the most difficult problem facing Gen. Eisenhower—a problem on which he has postponed decision but which cannot be postponed much longer.

He must either: A. Let the budget stay out of balance again. B. Increase taxes, C. or sacrifice the safety of the nation.

The first two alternatives will be dealt with in future columns. Regarding the third—the safety of the nation—here is some little-known background showing beyond any shadow of doubt that the United States is in very great danger today.

It was in the spring of 1952 that the inner-government debate over protection from the atom bomb really became intensive. At that time a group of scientists, working under the supervision of top eastern universities, prepared a confidential report known as "Project East River" warning that the United States was totally, woefully unprepared to meet an A-bomb attack.

This report roused great consternation, argument and disagreement—especially among the military. And there followed a second report under the auspices of Massachusetts Institute of Technology called the "Lincoln Summer Study" which in the end came out with almost the same conclusion, namely that the United States was extremely vulnerable.

The military, however, were hard to convince. And at first the National Security Council pooh-poohed the findings. It was not until President Truman put a burr under the council that its members began to realize that the U.S.A. was blithely and complacently going about its business with little realization that it could be put out of commission almost overnight.

FOOT SOLDIERS VS. ELECTRONICS

At this point, Secretary of Defense Lovett, despite all the other reports on the subject, ordered a third report, this one in charge of M. J. Kelly, head of the Bell Telephone Laboratories. Later, on Jan. 19, one day before the Eisenhower administration came in, another committee was appointed under Gen. Idwal Edwards.

Both committees came back with equally alarming reports, warning that the United States was in definite danger. All this, of course, was well before there was any intimation that Russia had the hydrogen bomb.

Despite all these reports, Gen. Eisenhower decided that another report was needed and appointed one of his most trusted officers in the European invasion, Gen. Harold Bull, to study the problem of enemy invasion.

The Bull report is now complete and is equally alarming. Gen. Bull has recommended less money than the Kelly committee, but even so, about 10 billions would have to be added to the national budget over a five-year period—possibly more. Or the alternative is to scrap some of the existing methods of national defense, such as two or three infantry divisions; or another alternative, increase taxes.

Gen. Omar Bradley, ex-chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff who now works for the Bulova Watch Company and doesn't have to worry about budget cuts, was attending a cocktail party one time given by his publishers in New York.

"Uncle Omar," as he is affectionately called around the Pentagon, comes from Moberly, Mo., and, speaking with a slow Missouri drawl, he told how his two grandfathers fought in the Civil War, one on the Confederate side, the other on the Union side.

A writer attending the party spoke up to say that he was from Kentucky where his two grandfathers also fought in the Civil War, both on opposite sides.

"My grandfather on my mother's side was a Captain under Gen. George Thomas in the Union army, while my grandfather on my father's side was a major with Gen. Fitzhugh Lee. Both were cavalry officers," he said proudly.

"Both my grandpappies," said the highest-ranking member of the U.S. Army, "were foot-privates."

MARQUIS CHILDS

Public Power Looms As Major GOP Hurdle

WASHINGTON—In the recent speeches of Secretary of Interior Douglas McKay and others in the Eisenhower administration is a note of surprise that the issue of public power should have somehow become entangled in the sordid grip of partisan politics. This is naive, to say the least, for power second only to farm prices promises to be a prime factor in the congressional campaign one year hence.

It is not alone in a few western states that power will be a political issue. More than 2,000,000 American farm families in 44 states have built up their own rural electric systems with government loans during the past 20 years.

Now this may have been contrary to the tenets of Adam Smith and his latter day apostles of free and untrammeled enterprise. But the development of these co-operative owned systems is a fact. And it is also a fact that before 1933 only about 10 per cent of the farms had electricity and today more than 90 per cent have central station power which farmers use not alone for their comfort and convenience but in daily farm operations.

A provision of the Flood Control Act of 1944 gives co-op users a preference in the purchase of power from federal projects. But increasingly in recent months farm leaders have come to feel that their rights and privileges are being taken away from them. Their concern and resentment are the essence of the politics of '54—a kind of sideshow for the main farm issue of declining farm prices and high industrial prices. Add to this the fact that the farm families in the electric co-ops are organized in a powerful national pressure group.

What McKay and the others do not seem to realize is that in the past the Republicans themselves have claimed the benefits of power produced with government help in one form or another. In his 1948 presidential campaign, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey repeatedly boasted that the Republican 80th Congress had made more money available for the rural electric co-ops than any previous Congress. The total for the fiscal year 1948 was $400,000,000.

Echoes of that Republican claim were heard in the campaign last fall. In the Eisenhower budget the request for rural electric co-ops was $120,000,000. The Congress upped this to $180,000,000.

But the rub is not so much

MAN'S BEST FRIEND

'I Want That Dog Because ...'

(Star Staff Photo)
PATRICIA KAY WALTON, KENNETH LEE, LEROY AND "LUCKY", DENNIS GENE AND BETTY LOU
... a telephone call brings a new friend ...

By ALLEN EDEE
Star Staff Writer

Eleven-year-old Leroy Walton suddenly jumped up out of his chair and ran out the door of his home.

Breathlessly he knocked on a neighbor's door asking to use their telephone. Then he nervously dialed 3-8563, the number of the Humane Society, and poured into the ear of the attendant:

"I had a dog, but it got run over by a car. I don't have any dog now and I would like that dog. We've got a large yard at home near the city limits and I've got four brothers and two sisters to help take care of the dog."

Then he fervently promised that he would train the dog to stay in the yard.

The lady asked him to call again the next night.

Impatiently Leroy waited through the next day, not too attentive in his sixth-grade class at Riley Grade School.

He called the next afternoon. The lady said no decision would be made until the next day. Another evening and the best half of the following day passed with the hands of the clock dragging around the numerals on the face.

Along in the day a man drove up to the Claude Walton residence at 1732 No. 56th. He asked for Leroy.

"That dog" about which Leroy had made the telephone call now had a home and the 11-year-old was the new owner.

The excited boy was driven out to the Humane Society where he picked up a five-month-old springer spaniel, a chocolate and white pup—the prize-winning object of Leroy's desire.

The pup was the gift of the Humane Society via the donation of Harvey Rousseau of Seward. The Society, on a weekly television show sponsored by the Lincoln Safety Council, had offered the spaniel to the person who told of the most deserving reasons why he should have the dog.

The Society made the rule that any dog-prize-seeker could call the Society number and state to an attendant the reasons for wanting a dog and the conditions and kind of home he would give the dog. To do that he would be eligible to receive the canine if elected the winner.

Leroy's newly acquired companion has been named, appropriately, "Lucky" and given the care that only his master and five brothers and sisters from two to twelve can provide.

With so many friends in the family, Lucky might well be excused for wavering in his affection for his master, but instead it is only to Leroy that Lucky comes when someone whistles.

True to his promise, the young master has taught Lucky how to stay in his yard. It is difficult to tell his beloved dog to stay home as Leroy starts out for school on his bike.

But Leroy has only to remember the good dog, Shep, that was run over by a car, to know that his promise is more than a condition that helped win Lucky; it is a protection so Lucky can keep greeting him on his way home from school.

Little Towns Best

Orleans, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: They may brag about their cities, their big factories, theaters, stores and churches, but for old people, there is no place like the old home town where we know everybody and understand each other. We may criticize and find fault, but deep down in our hearts, there is sympathy and a willingness to help.

We have our churches where we meet as one large family. We have a library, a nice place to while away the afternoons reading, and a lovely park that is cool and shady in the hottest weather. We know our business people; they are not just cogs in the wheel. They are our friends and neighbors.

Even the children are friendly. They always greet us with a "Hi," and a smile. We are not so far from the country but what we can walk out and see the hills, valleys and streams. We live as near to peace as it is possible in a world where nations are clawing at each other. Yes, we should be contented.

Nebraska 4-H Clubs

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The growth and general acceptance of the 4-H club program have been greatly enhanced by the favorable publicity received by the press and radio. The Lincoln Star has done a very outstanding job of giving us good coverage and interesting stories relative to the 4-H club section of the Nebraska State Fair. I am sure that the 4-H boys and girls as well as their leaders greatly appreciate the recognition which The Star has given them for their accomplishments. We wish to express our appreciation for the fine cooperation.

Football In The Past

Hollywood, Calif.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Let us hope that no Cornhusker football team will ever again give such a pitiful exhibition as that team did against Oregon last week. The play was horrendous. I bowed my bald head in deep sorrow.

Nothing that team (the Cornhuskers) did was right. Discount the glaring mistakes that led to two scores, and still the Cornhuskers were terrible. They should have been playing Lincoln High, or having tea and cake.

Nebraska in the past has played the kind of football that has made an alumnus proud of the Cornhuskers. I am not a wolf and I don't give a darn whether Nebraska wins all its games, but when it does play I like to see it realize its potentials.

When I was enjoying life at Nebraska, no team ever walked over the Cornhuskers. The players in those days were inspired; they had guts, stamina, and they fought their opponents to the final gun. Whatever became of that breed? In teaching col-

National Police Chief Laughs At Story Beria May Have Parachuted Into Spain

By LOUIS NEVIN

MADRID, Spain (AP)—A story that Lavrenty P. Beria has parachuted into Spain got Madrid up in the air Wednesday.

But you couldn't prove from official sources that anybody had seen him or his hair of the Kremlin's most prominent purge victim of 1953.

ST. JOSEPH'S ASPIRIN FOR CHILDREN

APPROVED BY MORE DOCTORS

than any other brand!

The National Police chief said the whole thing was laughable. "It looks as though Beria will now be replacing the flying saucers," he said.

The monarchist newspaper ABC set off the uproar.

Admitting it did not know whether the story was true, ABC published a report that Beria and a number of other Russians jumped several days ago into the Mancha region.

The Mancha region is a flat plateau land in central Spain, devoted chiefly to grain and cattle. Dotted by numerous windmills, it is known to the world as the scene of Don Quixote's windmill jousting in the novel by Cervantes.

The story went on to say a number of FBI agents, bearing special credentials signed by Vice President Richard Nixon and a Senate subcommittee had arrived to escort the former secret police boss to Washington.

This angle ignored the detail that U.S. law restricts the operation of J. Edgar Hoover's agents to the United States.

But Madrilenos were not primarily interested in details. Police headquarters and newspapers were besieged with telephone calls asking one question:

"Is it true Beria is in Spain?"

The answers ranged from denials to "We know nothing about it."

U. S. Ambassador James Dunn said:

"This embassy knows absolutely nothing about this story and has been involved in no way in anything pertaining to it."

Another embassy source said: "There is absolutely nothing to it."

World speculation was stirred last week-end by a report from high U. S. Senate sources in Washington that a man looking like the squat Soviet deputy premier who was ousted in July as a traitor had turned himself over to American investigators in some neutral European country.

Sidney Oil Field May Be One Structure

Gas Area Predicted. Among Top

SIDNEY, Neb. (P)—Oil men watching the development of gas and oil production in the West Sidney area are beginning to think that the production may be coming from one large structure rather than a series of small ones.

In recent months, the territory reaching from a point three miles northwest of Sidney to about eight miles southwest has been explored successfully for both gas and oil. All of the oil production has come in localities straight west of Sidney, but the gas field is being developed to the southwest of the city.

Two developments influencing the new trend of thinking are the extension of the Doran Farms oil field to the southwest of the Haupt, Ladegard and Mohatt farms, creating one of the most significant fields in the Julesburg Basin; and substantial gas recovery. All of the chief producing sands on the Frank Kurz farm, supporting the belief of many observers that the West Sidney gas field may become one of the largest in this part of the country.

None of this thinking has been given official cognizance by Ohio Oil Co., which controls the territory through extensive leasing in the area.

Might Reach Gas Field
Other observers, however, suggest that the big gas-oil structure might stretch from the productive Clarence Dorman lease northwest of Sidney, across the Doran farms lease and into the West Sidney gas field.

It had been felt previously that production was coming from a series of small unrelated structures, since this has been the experience in other parts of Cheyenne County and the Julesburg Basin.

Ohio is expected to continue development of the gas field as fast as unit agreements can be reached with the land and mineral owners. This could lead to drilling of another five or six wells in the territory between now and the first of the year.

Concordia Names Pfeiffer To Staff

SEWARD, Neb. — Concordia Teachers College announced that Benjamin Pfeiffer, a 1930 graduate of the college, has accepted an assistant professorship in English with the school.

A former faculty member of the Lutheran High School in Racine, Wis., Pfeiffer obtained his master's degree from the University of Wisconsin.

He also has been teaching in Lutheran elementary schools in Clayton, S.D., Schuyler, and Racine. He is a member of the Lutheran Education Association, National Council of Teachers of English, and is secretary of the Association of Lutheran Secondary Schools.

600 Persons May Attend Lutheran Laymen's Meeting

FALLS CITY, Neb. (Lincoln Star Special)—Christ Lutheran Church here will host the 14th annual Lutheran Laymen's League state convention this Saturday and Sunday.

Over 600 persons are expected to attend the gathering. Milton Carpenter, comptroller of the city of St. Louis and treasurer of the National Lutheran Laymen's League, will be the featured speaker at the Sunday night banquet at the Prichard Auditorium.

Delegates from Trinity Lutheran Church in Lincoln who will attend the meeting include Herman Neitzel, A. C. Heckel, A. H. Davis and Emil Menhardt.

Do Your Legs Itch?

A Lack of Natural Skin Oils Often the Cause
Dry skin, a lack of natural skin oils, often causes maddening, persistent itching of legs and ankles. Relieve dry skin itch with Resinol, the medicated, oil-rich ointment containing lanolin that lubricates parched skin surface, acts in place of Nature's own missing oils. Resinol quiets agonizing itching almost immediately. Comfort lasts for hours as Resinol Ointment helps Nature heal irritated parts.

Marvel Says Special Session Won't Help Tax Situation

HASTINGS, Neb. (P)—State Sen. Richard D. Marvel of Hastings said "there is nothing a special session of the Legislature can do to alleviate the 1953 Nebraska tax situation."

And he added that a return to a two-house partisan Legislature "would not necessarily be a solution to the tax problem." Marvel, who voted against the bill enacted by the past legislative session calling for property assessment at 50 per cent of actual value, said it will not be possible to straighten out the existing tax situation until a yardstick for actual value is established.

He added that the legislative tax study committee headed by Sen. Otto Liebers of Lincoln should be able to present a formula when the committee report is completed in the next 12 to 18 months.

Declines Comment
Marvel said he voted against the new tax law because he thought the Legislature was "proceeding too fast with such a major change-over without an actual standard."

He would not comment for or against the change from a non-partisan unicameral to a two-house partisan legislature, but

90-Year-Old Woman Perishes In Fire

Home Is Levelled

TECUMSEH, Neb. (Lincoln Star Special)—An elderly Tecumseh resident, Mrs. Rose Borrenpohl, 90, lost her life Wednesday in a fire destroying her farm home northeast of here.

The body still had not been recovered late Wednesday, although it was known Mrs. Borrenpohl was in the house at the time of the blaze.

A neighbor, Mrs. Dale Pope, heard Mrs. Borrenpohl scream for help via the rural telephone. The alarm was immediately turned in and neighbors together with members of the Tecumseh fire department rushed to the scene.

Mrs. Borrenpohl's son, Martin, was working in a nearby field when he sighted the flames. He rushed to the house, saw his mother but was unable to enter the blazing house.

Firemen were able to save other buildings on the Borrenpohl farm although the eight room house was completely destroyed.

Cause of the blaze has not been determined. Nothing was saved from the home.

Mrs. Borrenpohl's survivors include her six children, most residing in the Tecumseh vicinity.

Ex-POW Escapes Injury In Crash

OMAHA (AP)—Sgt. Solomon Thomas, 29, of Macy, Neb., who survived a Communist prisoner of war camp, narrowly escaped injury on the highway Wednesday.

Sgt. Thomas' car was involved in a collision north of Omaha. Chief Deputy Sheriff Gordon Falkenberg said the car, driven by Elizabeth Robinson, 20, also of Macy, and an oil truck driven by Harold O. Swanson, 31, of Omaha, sideswiped.

Swanson was uninjured but Miss Robinson and Norma Hollowell, 19, also of Macy suffered scalp lacerations.

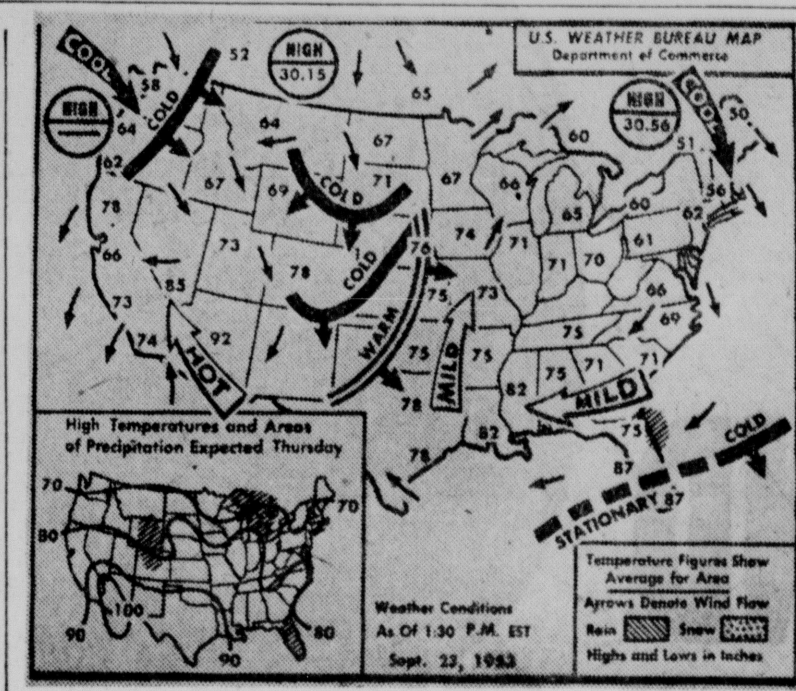

Sgt. Thomas, and two other passengers in the car were uninjured. Falkenberg said a charge of reckless driving was filed against Miss Robinson. She was released on $50 bond.

$4,130 House Brings Only $525 At Auction

FALLS CITY, Neb. (AP)—The state Board of Equalization placed a value of $4,130 on the residence of the late Mrs. Hattie L. Shiley of Verdon.

For tax purposes this figure was sliced to $2,065 under the 50-per cent formula.

But at a public auction the house was sold for $525, subject to $141.08 in unpaid and delinquent taxes.

Cooler Temps But No Rain

Much of the nation will enjoy fair weather Thursday. Warmer temperatures are slated for eastern third of U.S. and southern sections of the Plains states and the Mississippi Valley. Cooler weather is expected for the northern portions of Great Plains and the Mississippi Valley. The rest of the nation will experience little change in temperature. (AP Wirephoto Wednesday night.)

Used Car Dealer Sent To Prison

OMAHA (AP)—James G. Epps, 28, Tyndall, S. D., used car dealer, was sentenced to 14 years in the Nebraska penitentiary on a charge of issuing worthless checks.

Sentence was pronounced by District Judge Carroll O. Stauffer.

Court officials said Epps had paid for a number of used cars purchased from the Abel Motor Corporation here by checks which proved worthless. The cars were taken to Iowa and sold at auction.

Epps was arrested in South Dakota on an embezzlement count but South Dakota authorities permitted to extradite Epps to Nebraska on the no-account check charges.

The Abel Motor Corporation has filed a civil action against Epps, seeking to recover a total of $18,845. Court officials said the embezzlement charge in South Dakota has been dropped.

Humphrey Hits McKay Power Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Humphrey Wednesday criticized Secretary of the Interior McKay for making changes in federal power policy "in the absence of Congress from Washington."

Humphrey noted he was opposed to the changes themselves, too, saying:

"I must say that I am opposed to changes you are making in the federal power policy and their institution in the absence of Congress from Washington."

The Senator made specific reference to a new marketing plan McKay announced Sept. 15 for the eastern section of the Missouri River Basin, which includes parts of Minnesota.

The plan provides for contracts for federally produced power in the area for periods up to 20 years. Existing contracts for shorter periods of time can be extended up to 20 years.

Preference customers will get first call to any new power, the plan said, but contracts in which the government reserved the right to withdraw service from customers for the benefit of preference customers are barred.

Humphrey asked McKay to advise him what steps had been taken to assure service to preference customers in Minnesota. He asked if they were consulted on the new marketing plan.

Humphrey also asked for details on what power will be available and how the marketing plan affects Minnesota generally.

"In my opinion," Humphrey said, "you should at least make no irrevocable 20-year dispositions of power in any area at least until the elected representatives of the people of those areas have been fully advised of the proposed action, its full effects and had sufficient time to consult with their constituency."

Commissioners' Agenda Is Light

The Lancaster County Commissioners acted this week with dispatch on a light agenda as follows:

1. Set for hearing Oct. 6 the off-sale beer application of Alvin H. Davis at 1½ miles west of Lincoln on Highway 2.
2. Allowed the $465.91 tax refund claim of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle B. Eno against property erroneously assessed as improved for the years 1948-51, after other governmental subdivisions promised to reimburse the county for its share of the tax receipts.
3. Tabled the recommendation that Dale E. Fahrbruch be appointed a deputy county attorney at his present salary, $3,900. Fahrbruch is now assistant county attorney.

The new designation, requested by County Attorney Frederick Wagener, would allow Fahrbruch to handle criminal matters in addition to his present duties.

Gov. Crosby Models The 'Sandhill'

Sandhill cattlemen have long felt neglected in the matter of men's hats. A protest was lodged with a leading hat manufacturer by the Sandhills Cattlemen's Association and the end result was a new style called the "Sandhiller." One of the first of the new hats manufactured was made to Gov. Robert Crosby's size.

British Policy NU, Oxford Debate Topic

Two students from Oxford University, England, will debate British policy in the Middle East with two men from the University of Nebraska.

They will meet in public debate at the Unitarian Church on Nov. 1, at 8 p.m.

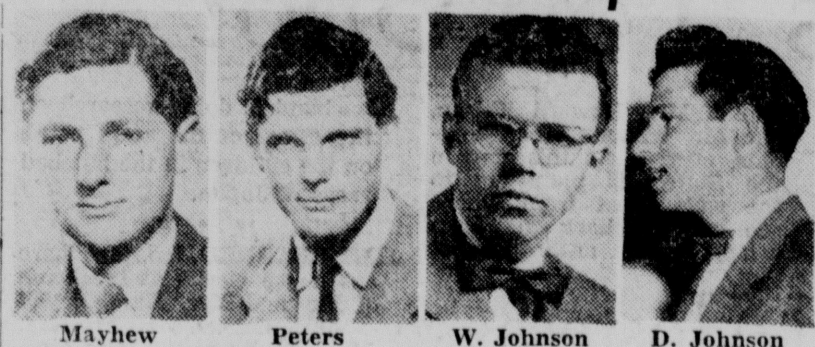

The Oxford men, Patrick B. E. Mayhew and John Peters, will defend the negative of the motion, "In the opinion of this House, the British have mis-handled the Middle East."

Wayne Johnson and Dale Johnson, members of the University of Nebraska debate team, will uphold the affirmative side.

Peters is current president of the Oxford Union Society, a political "independent" and former lieutenant with the Royal Army Education Corps. Mayhew, president of the Oxford University Conservative Association, was a lieutenant with the 7th Royal Dragoons. Both are 24.

The Johnsons, both seniors, won the Missouri Valley Debate Tournament championship last spring. Wayne is in the College of Arts and Sciences and Dale in Teachers College.

James E. Lawrence, editor of The Star, will serve as moderator for the debate. It will feature four 10-minute presentations followed by four five-minute rebuttals. The discussion will then be thrown open to the audience.

Welcoming the Oxford men to Nebraska will be Gov. Robert Crosby, Mayor Clark Jeary and Charles Thone, commander of American Legion Post No. 3.

Their visit is being arranged by the Rev. I. J. Dumas, minister of the Unitarian Church; Dr. Leroy T. Laase, chairman of the University of Nebraska speech department; and Donald O. Olson, director of university debate activities.

Special recognition will be given three Lincoln men who

Bids Received On Special Districts

Bids have been received at the City Hall for construction of three special improvement districts.

Low bidder on the two largest districts was the Dobson and Robinson Construction Co. Their bid of $14,980 was low on a sewer from 17th to 20th and Burnham to Pioneer.

Also low was their bid of $38,616 for a water line in the same district. The Commonwealth Construction Co. of Omaha submitted the low bid of $4,487 for ornamental lighting in 45th from Sumner to South.

Also received was the low bid of $1,725 from the Graybar Electric Co. of Omaha for furnishing 15,000 feet of aluminum cable for the City Light Department.

will be held by the Unitarian Laymen's League. Supervising arrangements will be Lawrence Webster Jr., church board chairman; Roger V. Dickson, Laymen's League president; Ralph E. Garner, league vice president; and Prof. E. Mott Davis, league secretary-treasurer.

Marguerite Hughes, Bride Of Donald H. McArthur

With only the members of the families attending the ceremony, the marriage of Miss Marguerite Hughes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted R. Hughes of Seward, to Donald H. McArthur, son of Mrs. H. E. McArthur of Lincoln, and the late Mr. McArthur, was solemnized at a 4 o'clock service on Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 23, at the home of the bride's parents.

The lines were read by the Rev. M. L. Leybold, minister of the First Lutheran Church, before an all-white background fashioned of chrysanthemums. The wedding music was played by Mrs. Paul Strydom, organist.

Mrs. Donald Bickel of Seward, as the matron of honor and only attendant, appeared in a waltz-length frock of pastel silver-blue pure silk. The sleeveless bodice, designed with a deep V neckline, narrowed to a slender waist beneath which the skirt was given accentuated fullness. Her slippers were frock-toned, and she carried a bouquet of gardenias.

Richard LaRue of Lincoln served Mr. McArthur as best man.

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of imported French Chantilly lace and tulle over heavy satin in the candle-white tone. A deep satin yoke created a drop-shoulder effect in the long sleeved lace bodice, closed snugly at the back with self-fabric buttons, that extended into an Elizabethan point at the small waist. The wide skirt of lace over satin that was veiled with tulle, swept into a lavish circular train. She carried a bouquet of gardenias.

Following the ceremony a reception for 200 guests was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hughes, and the all-white motif was repeated in the decor for the refreshment tables.

Mr. McArthur and his bride left for a honeymoon trip to Colorado after which they will return to Seward to reside. For traveling Mrs. McArthur wore a wool jersey frock in the toast shade, with angora-trimmed matching jacket. Her accessories were brown.

Mrs. McArthur is a graduate of the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Delta Gamma sorority of which she served as president. Mr. McArthur also is a graduate of the University of Nebraska, and the University of Nebraska college of law. His fraternities are Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Phi Delta Phi.

Rain Takes Top Spot

CURRENT topics of conversation—in order of their importance to the conversationists—Rain! football—Rain! next season's Western League prospects—Rain! But, as some wag asked—"What is rain?"

Rain or no rain, the autumn is officially here—and we wish we could tell you some of the exciting news that is coming up soon—but we can't—not at the moment, that is.

BUT WE can speak of guests—arrived and arriving—this morning—Perhaps you already have said "hello" to Colonel and Mrs. Carl Jung who arrived a day or two ago from Washington, D. C. for a visit with Mr. Jung's mother, Mrs. O. J. Jung, and his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Jung. However, word has reached us that the Carl Junges will not be returning to Washington—at least not to stay—They are moving to North Platte where Mr. Jung has purchased a car agency.

Understand that the residence in North Platte will be a particularly happy one for Mr. and Mrs. Jung, since their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ferguson and their three daughters, Barbara, Julie Ann and Carol also will be residing there—moving eventually from Cedar Rapids, Ia.

OUR POTENTIAL guest is Mrs. Earl Reynolds—with two children's books and numerous short stories to her credit—who will arrive next Tuesday to spend only a few hours between planes with an old friend, Mrs. Howard Wilson, and Mr. Wilson. Mrs. Reynolds, after a month's stay in the States, is plane-ing to the west coast from where she will fly back to Japan where her anthropologist husband is doing research on the effect of the atom bomb on the children in the bombed areas of Japan.

JUST LEARNED, too, that there are house guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Coryell—Mrs. Coryell's sister, Mrs. James V. Kerr, and Miss Annie Embry, both of Louisville, Ky. The visitors arrived on Monday and, in addition to Mr. and Mrs. Coryell, have been visiting Mrs. Kerr's mother, Mrs. D. B. Stidworthy, and another sister, Mrs. Ada Westover.

AS WE mentioned the other morning—this is the season of dancing club plans—Hear that the 100 Club already has its new members list completed, and will be greeting them at the first party—a dinner dance—on Saturday evening, Oct. 3, at Hotel Cornhusker.

The newly elected members of the club are Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey E. Sheldon, Mr. and Mrs. George R. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. William L. Beachly, Mr. and Mrs. Gene H. Tallman, Mr. and Mrs. Harold R. Bookstrom, Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Watt, Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Morey, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred R. Larson, and Mr. and Mrs. A. Grant Reed.

Guest And Hostess

Mrs. Neville Allison, III, of Gordonsville, Va., and Mrs. James Allison have a moment of relaxation following the coffee for which Mrs. Allison was hostess at her home on Wednesday to compliment Mrs. Allison. Mrs. Allison, with Mr. Allison and their son, Neville Monroe Allison, IV, are guests at the home of Mrs. Allison's father, Charles Heyl.

Ike Lauds Rehabilitation Programs

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower gave double-barreled support Wednesday to programs to rehabilitate the physically handicapped.

Speaking briefly at a meeting of the President's Committee on Employment of the Physically Handicapped, the President (1) said no military man could escape deep concern over the plight of those disabled in war; and (2) emphasized with an example that a physically handicapped man still can be very useful.

Eisenhower said that of all the various committees operating under the President's name, none "engages the interests of my heart more than this one."

The story he told dated back to 1944, when Eisenhower was supreme commander of World War II Allied Forces in Europe. It was this: Eisenhower was dissatisfied with the work an Army corps was doing, and asked Gen. George C. Marshall, then chief of staff, for a certain officer to take command.

Marshall agreed that Eisenhower's choice was a good man, but pointed out he was in a hospital with arthritis. But Eisenhower said: "It's the head and heart of the man I want, not his knees." He got his man, and despite the physical handicap the new corps commander gave a brilliant performance.

The president used no names and the White House declined to identify the officer.

Heavy Champ Marciano 4-1 Favorite In Title Fight

Knockout Of LaStarza Expected By Experts

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—Rocky Marciano, heavyweight champion of the world exactly one year Wednesday, remained a solid 4 to 1 favorite to turn back the challenge of ex-Collegian Roland LaStarza Thursday night before 32,000 fans at the Polo Grounds.

New York's first heavyweight title fight in two and a half years scheduled for 8:30 p.m. CST will not be seen on home television. There will be no blow-by-blow accounts although radio stations will be permitted to broadcast brief summaries at the end of each round.

A network of 45 theaters in 34 cities will beam the 15-round match across the nation to theaters and drive-ins by theater TV which has guaranteed the International Boxing Club a minimum of $100,000. The promoters have an option of taking $1.00 per admission if over 100,000.

The Polo Grounds, quickly converted into a fight stadium after the New York Giants left home, will be staffed to take care of a capacity crowd. However, the most reliable forecasts call for about 32,000 and a gross gate of about $350,000. Jim Morris, IBC president said advance receipts were "over $250,000" with a chance of a final gate of $400,000 or better. The weather man predicted a clear warm day with a high of 70 and the high 50s by bedtime.

Norris said 6,000 general admission tickets at $3.00 each would go on sale at the ball park when the gates opened at 5 p.m. CST.

The boxing experts, who might be expected to be gun shy after their recent experiences with Ezzy Charles and Kid Gavilan, were lined up behind the Champ almost to a man. Few expected the bout to go the limit. They were highly respectful of the slugging power of the swarthy shoemaker's son from Brockton, Mass.

There was no heavy betting on the outcome. A few underdog backers were grabbing the long price. It was 12 to 5 that LaStarza wouldn't go 15, even money he wouldn't last eight and 8 to 1 he wouldn't knock out Marciano. Rocky probably will get about $170,000 for the night's work and LaStarza about $70,000 on a 4 1/2-17 1/2 per cent split.

LaStarza, normally an over-cautious boxer, has been training at Greenwood Lake, N.Y., as though he meant to carry the fight to the champion. When he beat Dan Bucceroni in a rematch last year, he moved inside and smothered the long-range power of the rangy Philadelphia boy. Roland, 26-year-old son of a Bronx butcher, still remembers Rocky as a clumsy slugger with a long, overhand right.

It was the long right that dropped LaStarza in their first meeting March 24, 1950, when Marciano won a disputed split decision. Rocky went on to win the title in dramatic fashion Sept. 23, 1952, by knocking out Jersey Joe Walcott in the 13th round at Philadelphia. LaStarza lost to Bucceroni and Rocky Jones while waiting for the rematch.

Marciano no longer is the lumbering, awkward puncher who throws only haymakers. Trainer Charley Goldman and Manager Al Weill have shortened his punches, sent him into a crouch and taught him the semblance of a boxing style.

He may uppercute with it as he did against Walcott, May 15, to score a first-round 2:25 knockout. Or he can drop it in from only six inches, like he did to flatten Jersey Joe last year. The left hook knocked out Harry Matthews and polished off Joe Louis.

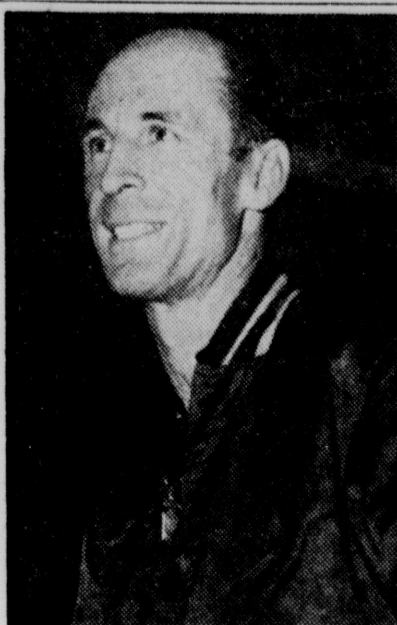

The challenger's best chance would seem to be throwing a punch and then tying up the champ. He is a confident youngster, a year younger than Rocky, and a more skillful boxer. But he doesn't have the big punch. Both boys are in superb condition. Rocky probably will weigh 184 1/2; LaStarza 188 pounds.

The pick here is Marciano on a knockout in eight.

JOHN GRAYSON

Grayson Resigns At NWU

Cage Coach Takes Post At Oklahoma

By RON GIBSON
Star Sports Staff Member

John Grayson, who in two years as head basketball coach at Nebraska Wesleyan University has brought the school into national prominence, tendered his resignation to Athletic Director Roy Robertson and Chancellor Carl C. Bracy Wednesday.

Grayson has resigned to take a position as assistant basketball coach at Oklahoma University under Bruce Drake.

Grayson succeeds Jerome (Shocky) Needy as basketball assistant. Needy has accepted a job as director of personnel management with the Ada Oil Co. of Houston, Tex. He will coach the company's National Industrial Basketball League team.

Chancellor Bracy made the following statement after accepting Grayson's resignation:

"It is our policy not to stand in the way of any staff member who receives an opportunity to advance himself professionally. This offer gives Mr. Grayson the opportunity to advance in the coaching field and to return to his own alma mater as well. "We are deeply grateful to Mr. Grayson for the fine job of coaching he has done at Nebraska Wesleyan. His team of a year ago was one of the finest in Wesleyan history. "He not only produced winning teams but proved himself to be capable of handling young men and developing better citizens as well. Our best wishes will go with him to Oklahoma." Robertson, athletic director and head football and track coach at the Plainsman school, had this to say about Grayson: "Our coaching relationship has existed since 1947 when John joined me at Springfield, Mo., High School. I hate to see him go but I know the Oklahoma job offers him an opportunity he justly deserves."

Fred Hess, NWU publicity director, said the athletic committee would meet today to determine a policy to follow in searching for a successor to Grayson. He told The Star immediate steps to secure a replacement and protect the Wesleyan program would be taken. Grayson is a former Sooner basketball great and has been in the coaching field for 13 years.

The high point of his career was in the spring of this year when his Plainsmen basketball team smashed virtually all school scoring records in winning the Nebraska College Conference crown and going to the quarter finals of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics tournament in Kansas City before losing out.

This season would have been Grayson's third at NWU. He came here from Springfield High and had coached at Missouri and Oklahoma high schools before taking his first college job at Wesleyan. In two years he developed a world-beater.

Nebraska Club Holds Spaniel Field Trials

The Nebraska Dog and Hunt club will hold licensed field trials for Springer Spaniels at the hunt club grounds this Saturday and Sunday, Fred Sehnert, secretary of the club announced Wednesday.

Entries from four or five mid-western states will compete in the trials that will be held at the club grounds on North 48th.

Huskers Polish Offense For Illini

Loehr Will Wear Potsy's Jaw Protector

By NORRIS ANDERSON
Sports Editor, The Star

A 38-year-old jaw protector may be the most important implement on the field at Champaign Saturday when the Nebraska Cornhuskers meet the Fighting Illini of Illinois.

That antique gear will fit around the mending broken jaw of Andy Loehr, bandy-legged, little end mainstay of the Cornhuskers.

Sturdy Loehr, constructed of leather and aluminum for Athletic Director Patsy Clark in 1915, the device was tried by Loehr Wednesday afternoon and given his official approval.

"I have kept the thing ever since I broke my jaw in the first game of the 1915 season," Clark told The Star. "It served the purpose for me as I was even able to bark out signals in my quarterback job and it has been used successfully several times since."

Shortly after Clark's jaw was broken, his teammate, End George Halas, now owner of the Chicago Bears, suffered a cracked jaw.

"They made a mask for Halas, too, but it didn't turn out as good as mine," Patsy said.

Patsy broke his jaw on the same field on which the Huskers will be cavorting. He was an All-Big Ten quarterback for the Illini.

Loehr, rated one of the best all-round ends on the squad, is a probable starter Saturday after missing the Oregon opener. On the doubtful list is End Ralph Weddle, whose Charley Horse has been slow mending.

The Huskers worked Wednesday day on overall polish and execution with several surprises being primed for Saturday delivery.

With Illinois already rated a two-touchdown favorite, the Huskers won't be offset by the favorite's role that dogged them before the Oregon opener.

Saturday marks first visit of a Nebraska football team to Champaign-Urbana since 1925, but the Cornhuskers' last invasion is one which Illini will never forget. It resulted in Illinois' first Memorial Stadium defeat.

That Nebraska victory gave the Cornhuskers a 4-2 edge in the series which began with consecutive triumphs at Lincoln in 1903-04-05. Illinois won the 1923 renewal and took another victory in 1924.

Then came the 1925 encounter in the new home of the Illini. It was on a rain-soaked gridiron that Nebraska ground out 14-0 revenge for defeats the previous two seasons by Harold "Red" Grange and his teammates. Grange played in the 1925 game, too, but the 1923-24 forward wall was gone, and the great halfback dashed himself time and time again against an unrelenting Nebraska line. Illinois fans prefer to recall the two preceding encounters, although the 1924 game at Lincoln provided one of the closest calls in a great Illinois season.

Nebraska struck midway through the first quarter, taking a 6-0 lead on a 41-yard touchdown run by John Rhodes. It wasn't until seconds before end of the half that favored Illinois came back to knot the score. A pass from Grange to Chuck Kasel fooled Nebraska defenders, but Illinois, too, missed its try for extra point and the two teams left the field with the score tied 6-6.

Excellent line play again marked the third period, and neither team was able to score. The fourth quarter began the same way. Finally, Illinois drove to the Nebraska 20-yard line, but the Cornhuskers held again. On fourth down, Earl Britton saved the day with a 27-yard place kick that gave Illini a 9-6 victory.

The 1923 meeting was more pleasant for Coach Bob Zuppke's team. Nebraska visited Illinois Field and took a 24-7 beating.

A sophomore halfback named Grange stole the show that day, as he was to do in succeeding Illinois triumphs. The fabulous "Red" scored three touchdowns, the first on an eight-yard dash around left end in the first period.

It Can't Happen Here

That prodigious infant of 1953, named Home-Owned Western League Baseball in Lincoln, has tossed away its teething ring and is learning to walk.

Those first few steps are contingent on a sum of $25,000. The amount needed to give the Lincoln Chiefs the working capital necessary to assure operation in 1954.

The teeth were cut on a respectable 91,000 attendance total for 1953, despite 12 rain-outs in the first 20 starts. Sherman Field baseball hysteria hit its highest crescendo during the championship year of 1949.

No longer a bare baby, the current infant is clothed in the following assets, (1) a working agreement with the wealthy and expansion-conscious Milwaukee Braves, (2) players such as Norm Brown and Freddy Hancock under contract who are worth over $10,000, (3) a qualified amount of operating equipment, (4) a lease on Sherman Field, and (5) the wholesale respect and admiration of the entire Western League.

As any infant needs food to stoke a limitless flow of energy, the Chiefs currently require $25,000 in working capital. Those 1,900 community fathers, known as stockholders in the child, are being polled by mail on the ways and means of raising the necessary 25-grand.

It may be raised by selling more stock and it could be received by outright donations. Since this is hardly a charity, rather a corporation of baseball-minded citizens, the sale of more stock would have The Firing Line's blessing.

Whatever answer is decided after the poll must be forwarded to the league by Oct. 1. That is the date set for telling the league whether the robust Lincoln youngster shall be an unfranchised orphan for 1954.

It can't happen here.

Why Lincoln without Western League baseball would be like Nellie Fox without a chew or Bobby Shantz without a curve.

Even as this is written, a platoon of happy Sherman Field memories marches by.

Lou Limmer, swinging like his very life depended on it, blasting the ball over the rightfield fence, then circling the bases in that turkey-neck, mincing style. Little Fox, his jaw bulging to the hilt, making plays all over the infield and scattering hits all over the outfield. The best second baseman in the American League, they call him today. It was our privilege to see him start his baseball career—right here at Sherman Field.

Few will forget Shantz, his control on pinpoint and his curve jagged, moving down the big boys in the Western League. The American League's Most Valuable Player in 1952—that's what he was. He rocked the baseball world by successfully striking out Stan Musial, Whitey Lockman and Jackie Robinson in the 1952 All-Star game.

Freddy Hancock, his bat choked half way up the handle, is hitting that long ball in the clutch and, say, weren't he and Jack Caro wonderful on the double play?

Norm Brown's fluid pitching motion, the rifle arm of Bobby Stewart and the remarkable defensive catching of Billy Shantz and Walt Linden are fond memories.

Nellie Fox of the Chicago White Sox belongs among the Sherman Field memories.

Darned if we won't even welcome the 1954 signing of Uncle Tom Neill stepping away from the plate on every pitch to dust his hands.

Take Western League baseball away from Lincoln? Impossible! Why this spunky infant will bite the hands off anyone who touches him. Take him away and Lincoln will be the orphan.

These Lincoln baseball fans are too active to live on memories. We're depending on that.

Veteran Sala KOD By Troy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Willie Troy, a promising young Washington middleweight, knocked out veteran Lee Sala of Pittsburgh Wednesday night in the fifth round of their nationally televised fight.
The 21-year-old Troy gave his more experienced opponent a second boxing lesson with a steady barrage of body blows that softened him up for the kayo punch, a wicked left hook that flattened Sala at 2:09 of the fifth round.
At 158 Troy was outweighed by five pounds, but he didn't let that bother him. He was in serious trouble in the second round when Sala staggered him with a right cross and followed up with a flock of left jabs that had Willie groggy at the end of the round.

was injured by a line drive a week ago, pitched seven innings and stamped himself ready for a starting World Series assignment. It was his 16th win.
Loser Bobby Shantz pitched three innings in an effort to see whether his chronic shoulder injury will prevent a comeback in 1954. Shantz was tagged for a home run by Don Boliweg, Morris Martin gave up the other two tallies in the fifth and eighth.

In the National League, the Cincinnati Reds broke a two-inning three-all tie to beat Chicago 4-3. Joe Nuxhall was the winner.
Robin Roberts, the winningest pitcher in the major leagues, captured No. 23 in shattering the New York Giants with six hits as the Philadelphia Phillies defeated the Giants 2-1.
The Cardinals bowed 2-1 to Warren Spahn and the Milwaukee Braves. It was Spahn's 22nd victory. The Cards got 10 hits to seven for the Braves but Milwaukee combined three of their safeties off Wilmer Mizell with a walk to score twice in the sixth inning. A double by Stan Musial and Ray Jablonski's single in the first inning produced the only St. Louis run.

Northeast Has Smallest Team

An inexperienced and undermanned Northeast Merchants midget football team learned a lot of football last Saturday night and will have to know their lessons well in their next encounter.
The Northeasters face rugged Downtown, again a midget league power. Northeast lost a 27-6 game to South Street in the season opener last Saturday while the Downtowners tweaked Roberts, 7-6.
Coach Perry Leitell's Northeast team was faced with the prospect of starting the season as the smallest squad in the four-team circuit, both in size and numbers. There are only 20 on the NE squad, and the boys are smaller than the big Downtown, Roberts and South Street eleven.
Leitell and Coach Pete Ducher are working the team from the short punt, a change from the single wing the team used in 1952.
"We've only got one regular, Denny Hays, back from last year so there isn't much of a change-over to make," Leitell says.
"We haven't much depth, but the boys have plenty of desire and we could win a few," Leitell says.
Northeast is reportedly tough in the center of the line and have plenty of spirit. It's the kind of a ball club that could surprise the big boys as the season progresses.

The Antelope And Amend

Waving to the cameraman with one hand and displaying his trophy with the other is Lincoln's Herman Amend in the desolate reaches of the Punkin Butte Range in the Northeast part of Wyoming. The picture was taken right after the kill. Adam Wertz, kneeling, and son Laurin, both of Midwest, Wyoming, were with Amend when he made the kill. Amend reports that many out-of-state antelope hunters didn't achieve their objective. An intermediate in the form of ranchers who were charging exorbitant prices for the right to hunt upon their land caused many to give up the hunt before getting their antelopes. (Special to The Star.)

Three Managerial Jobs In Doubt

NEW YORK (AP) — The signing of Freddie Hutchinson to lead the Detroit Tigers again next year leaves only one vacant and two doubtful spots in the major league managerial picture for 1954.
The only vacancy is at Cincinnati where Coach Buster Mills is filling in until a successor can be named for the fired Rogers Hornsby.
The two doubtful spots are in Cleveland and Chicago. Indian manager Al Lopez is scheduled to meet with Hank Greenberg, Cleveland's general manager, at which time Lopez' status for '54 will be discussed.
Phil Caveretta's contract as manager of the Chicago Cubs expires at the end of this season. The Cubs, with high hopes of a first division finish, will wind up a dismal seventh.

Ike To Ask For Change On Taft-Hartley Act 'Defects'

Morse Says Country-Club Government Must Be Ended

ST. LOUIS (P) — President Eisenhower said Wednesday in a message to the AFL convention that the Taft-Hartley Act is essentially sound but has "a number of defects" he will ask Congress next January to change.

Eisenhower's message, which was read to delegates by Vice President Richard M. Nixon, made no reference to the controversy stirred up by AFL Leader Martin P. Durkin's recent resignation as secretary of labor.

Nixon, however, in remarks of his own, told the convention Eisenhower never broke his word with Durkin on T-H law changes as Durkin has charged.

'Honorable Men'

"I know Martin Durkin, and I also know the President of the United States," Nixon said, "and I consider them both to be honorable men."

"There may have been and apparently there was a misunderstanding between them . . . There may have been a misunderstanding, but in 40 years of service to his country . . . Dwight Eisenhower has never been guilty of breaking his solemnly given word on anything. And I don't believe that anyone can claim that he broke his word in this instance."

Durkin, seated among delegates close to the platform from which Nixon spoke, afterward went up and shook hands with the vice president. But the resigned cabinet member said he still stood on what he said before.

Durkin told the convention Tuesday he had a face-to-face promise from Eisenhower to support 19 specific T-H amendments and to recommend them to Congress. He said Eisenhower later told him he "could no longer go along" with the claimed agreement.

Eisenhower's convention message said an administration study of changes needed in the Taft-Hartley act is "not as yet completed" but there is "substantial accord on a heartening number" of proposed amendments.

"I frankly repeat the estimate of the Taft-Hartley Act which I have stated often in the past," the President said. "And even though the past six years have revealed a number of defects which should be corrected, I believe that its enactment was a substantial contribution to the quest for sounder labor-management relations."

Part of Durkin's story was that the amendments were all prepared in a message which Eisenhower had agreed to send to Congress. Nixon referred to a prepared message for Congress, too, in his remarks to delegates.

Interested In Timing

"Contrary to press reports inferring that I had something to do with developing the message that was to be sent to Congress," the Vice President said, "as Martin Durkin will tell you, I did not participate in the substance of the message and the discussions in regard to the substance of the message."

"My interest was only in its timing."

There have been reports that it was Nixon who blocked White House delivery of the message to Congress on July 31, the day of the death of Sen. Robert A. Taft.

Small Demo Poll Shows Supports OK

A farm poll taken at the State Fair by Young Democrats of Lancaster County of 200 persons reveals that 91 per cent of those interviewed favor continuing the price support program on basic crops.

A report on the poll was presented by representatives of the county Young Democrats at the national Democratic rally in Chicago.

The full report, released by the Young Democrats at a meeting at the YMCA, shows 52 per cent are for renewal of 90 per cent price support.

Twenty per cent favored raising supports to 100 per cent and 19 per cent indicated the need for a sliding scale support program of 75-90 per cent. Nine per cent of those interviewed were opposed to any support program.

Beef cattle supports were favored by 61.5 per cent. Of this percentage, 32 per cent wanted the support set at 90 per cent of parity. And 17 per cent wanted 100 per cent of parity for beef supports.

Fair goers also were quizzed about the federal crop insurance program which is operative in only 8,400 U.S. counties. Thirty-five per cent of those voting said the program should be expanded, 25 per cent it should not be expanded and 11 per cent favored its abolishment.

When asked if they thought the Republicans were dragging their feet in presenting a definite farm program 62 per cent said yes. Thirty per cent thought the administration was moving as fast as it could and nine per cent had no opinion.

Sec. Benson Plans To Put Farm Products 'Into Stomachs'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson said Wednesday night the new farm program he expects to recommend to Congress next year will be aimed at moving farm products "into stomachs instead of into storerooms."

Benson, appearing on NBC radio's "Report From the White House," said his department plans to have its recommendations ready for Congress in January. It will be based on the findings of studies now being conducted by major farm organizations, the House Agriculture Committee, department groups and the President's Agricultural Advisory Commission, he said.

The Agriculture Secretary listed as other objectives of the revised farm program: broadening markets for farm output, providing farmers "a greater degree of freedom" than they have under present programs, and reducing "the burden of these programs on the public treasury."

Benson emphasized that he has no intention of scrapping any phase of the present farm program "unless we can provide something better."

Not Far Enough
The programs now in operation, he said, don't go far enough "when it comes to assuring the farmer and equitable share of the national income."

Benson, who has been under fire from some farm-state congressmen, said he is pleased by the response—as registered in telegrams and newspaper editorials—to his major policy address last week at the national plowing contest in Wisconsin.

He said the thousands of farmers to whom he spoke were a "very friendly audience" and that he did not detect a "discordant note" anywhere.

Benson challenged Democratic claims that the farm vote is swinging away from the Republicans and that the 7-1 vote by which wheat growers accepted production controls for their coming crop represented a repudiation of the administration's agricultural views.

Jewish Residents Observe Thanksgiving

Special Thanksgiving festivities for Jewish families started at sundown Wednesday. As part of the observances which will continue until sundown, Friday, Sept. 31, Rabbi Harold Stern, his wife and son Johnathan have built this Sukkath, or tabernacle, behind their home. The family will eat all their meals in Sukkath and entertain members of the Tifereth Israel Synagogue congregation as their guests there. Special services were held at the Synagogue Wednesday night and other services are scheduled for 6:45 p.m. Thursday.

As part of the Thanksgiving festival, South Street Temple will hold consecration services for young people entering religious school for the first time at 8 p.m. Friday. Rabbi Abba

M. Fineberg said their children were the "fruits of the real harvest."

Children entering from the cradle roll are Ruth Kaufman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kurt Kaufman of 2845 So. 44th; Stan Geyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Geyer of 2645 Garfield; Joy Ann Schneider, daughter of Mrs. Sam Schneider of 1650 Arapahoe; and Susan Lea Davidson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Davidson of 4932 Washington.

Children of the Temple will conduct services at 11 a.m. Sunday. The harvest fruit decorating the altar will be given to a needy family, Rabbi Fineberg said. (Star Staff Photo.)

NWU Chancellor Speaks Thursday

Two traditional fall campus events will be held on the Nebraska Wesleyan University campus Thursday.

Chancellor Carl C. Bracy will deliver his annual message to the students at the regular 10 o'clock convocation hour Thursday morning.

Chancellor and Mrs. Bracy will play host to all students at an annual Chancellor's reception in Huntington Hall in the C. C. White building Thursday night beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Registrar Mrs. Helen Luschei, Dr. and Mrs. Bracy, Dean and Mrs. A. L. Forrest, new faculty members, their wives and husbands, will form the receiving line.

The Woman's Wesleyan Educational Council will serve refreshments in their Council Rooms. Wesleyan students will present background music.

CALVERT MADE A NEW
OLD FASHIONED
OUT OF ME!

"For years I was just an ordinary Old Fashioned. Oh, I had pretty fruit and sugar — and could take the bitters with the sweet. But something was missing. Then I switched to Calvert Reserve. It made all the difference. This smoother, mellower whiskey makes every drink taste better."

and enjoy drinks more!

No drink can taste better than the whiskey you put in it. That's why we say, compare Calvert with your present brand and see which one you really like best. Here's how:

SNIFF ¼-oz. sample of each whiskey to compare aroma. TASTE Calvert and the other whiskey critically to judge smoothness and freedom from bite. CHOOSE the whiskey that suits your own personal taste better.

We're betting that you'll pick smoother, mellower Calvert. But you be the judge. Fair Enough?

State Is Courting Foreign Industries

Chief C. V. Price of the State Resources Division said Wednesday a move has been launched to attract foreign capital which might be interested in locating new industries in Nebraska.

He said several inquiries have been received, particularly from Italy, where there are some industries with a market already established in this country and which are interested in locating plants in the United States to take care of their market.

The division's new foreign relations program will not be confined to Italy, however.

Folders have been prepared, listing Nebraska's strategic location at the geographical center of the nation and the estate's industrial advantages.

Among these advantages listed are excellent labor, plant sites, a fine place to live; abundant and low-cost power, fuel and water, low taxes and "a government that is friendly to business"; and "unexcelled" transportation facilities.

Price said the possibility that foreign capital might be interested in locating new industries in Nebraska was suggested in some of the responses to the special Nebraska supplement which appeared in a Sunday edition of the New York Times about a year ago.

Since then Price has conferred in the east with American representatives of some of these interests.

National Member—B. Frank Watson of Lincoln has been named a member of the American Institute of Accountants, national professional society of certified public accountants.

Lincolnite Named To Chamber Post

Edward Opocensky of Lincoln has been appointed secretary of the Effingham, Ill., Chamber of Commerce.

Opocensky, a former resident of Newman Grove, will assume his duties Oct. 1. He succeeds Tom Bundy, who accepted a similar position at Erie, Pa.

Opocensky is a University of Nebraska graduate. He has lived in Lincoln since 1946.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Council Okays 11 Ordinances

Three ordinances for changes in zoning and expansion of business were among the 11 ordinances approved on the third reading by the City Council.

One of the three changes from residence to local business property at the northeast corner of Cotner and O. This will be the future site of a new home office building for the Bankers Life Insurance Co.

Another of the three was for a change from residence A to commercial of property east of 33rd between Apple and Y. This will be the future site of a new sub-station and transmission line.

The third zoning change ordinance made commercial A out of local business property at 1150 Cornhusker. Highway. This change will mean an expansion in the store operated at that location by Jake Breslow.

Other third reading ordinances approved: Repeal of ordinance No. 5581 which established a water district in 60th from 10th to 12th and 13th, and the name of Sunset Rd. to 55th. Addition to the city limits of a tract of land between A and Randolph from 56th to 60th.

Repeal of ordinance No. 5581 which established a water district in 60th from 10th to 12th and 13th, and the name of Sunset Rd. to 55th. Addition to the city limits of a tract of land between A and Randolph from 56th to 60th.

State Board Delays Setting Assessed Values Of New Cars

The State Board of Equalization Wednesday postponed fixing the assessed valuation figure for 1953 and early 1954 model automobiles until December.

Tax Commissioner Norris Anderson explained that setting the price for models coming on the market between now and the end of the year is not known.

He said the board was advised by the Attorney General's office that it could delay fixing the valuations for these models until nearer Jan. 1.

The board at its meeting Wednesday fixed the valuation of rolling stock of railroad car line companies, such as refrigerator cars. And it set the figure for flight equipment of air lines, used in Nebraska.

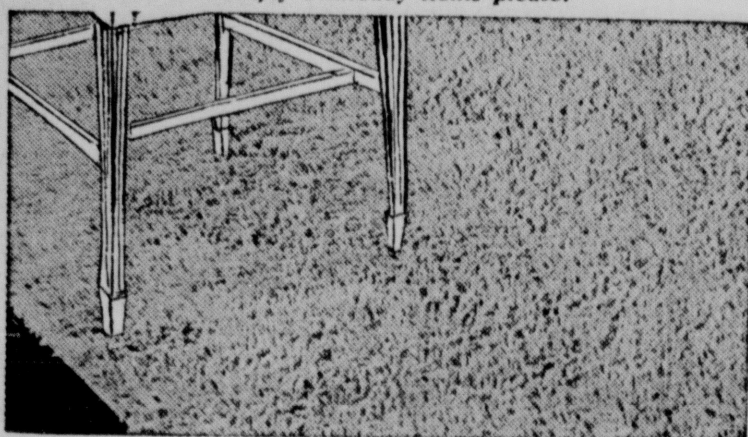

The new figures are lower than last year's, Anderson said, but do not represent a large amount in any instances.
